Never Changing

I will sing of the mercies of the LORD forever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness to all generations.—Psalms 89:1

In a day when people quickly change their loyalties it is nice to know that there is something that remains absolutely secure from generation to generation.

I heard a radio call-in show this week and the callers were sharing the things that have become obsolete in their lifetime. Callers mentioned electronic devices and services such as the operator who manually connected a person's call, and the iceman who delivered ice to homes before electric refrigerators. Things are changing so fast that we are reluctant to buy some devices or enter some occupations for fear that they will become obsolete.

Not so with God, He does not change. We call that His immutability. We can count on Him being the same yesterday, today, and forever. We enter a relationship with Him knowing that He will be true to His word, never faltering, never failing. Are not you thankful that you know that He does not offer salvation one-way today and another tomorrow. It would be dreadful if we could not count on God's grace and mercy to see us through each day. How much we appreciate the fact that His promises remain true and we can count on Him to "never leave us nor forsake us".

When we look at our ever-changing world, it gives us a great opportunity to make known God's never changing faithfulness. Pray with me that God will give us opportunities this week to share the "mercies of the LORD".
